Week 1	"Elections give us an opportunity not only to have a say in our leadership, but to have conversations about how we can contribute to building a healthy and just society," says Archbishop Colin Johnson. He invites us to have these conversations with our local candidates as well as our friends, neighbours and fellow-parishioners. Discern, pray and vote. Week 2	Did you know that more than 171,000 Ontario households are on waiting lists for rent-geared-to-income housing, with an average wait time of four years, and in some cases, over a decade? Issues related to housing and homelessness have been a priority for Anglicans in Ontario in recent years. Rising housing costs, stagnating incomes, and a critical lack of affordable housing force hundreds of thousands of Ontarians into degrading and insecure housing conditions or homelessness. Ask your candidate what their party's plan is to address these important issues and learn more here: https://www.province-ontario.anglican.ca/homelessness	Each night about 12,000 Ontarians are homeless. Raise issues of #housing and #homelessness with your electoral candidates. Week 3	Nearly half a million Ontarians relied on foodbanks last year and one-third of them were children! As Anglicans ensuring that all people have enough to flourish is a gospel imperative. Be sure to ask your candidate about their plans to ensure social assistance programs provide an adequate standard of living and what they intend to do to support low-income workers.	Did you know that 1 in 6 children live in poverty, and that over a million Ontarians rely on food banks? Let's work to ensure that all people have enough to live with dignity. Engage your candidates on issues related to poverty & hunger. Learn more: https://www.province-ontario.anglican.ca/elections
